PhD position (by research)

Project Title:
Predictors and Outcomes of Career Choice Behaviour

Lead Supervisors:
Dr Chong Yit Sean and Professor Pervaiz K Ahmed

Location:
School of Business, Monash University Malaysia

Position Details:
This PhD appointment is based on a full-time mode of study. We are seeking a PhD student with a background in management, psychology, organisational studies or related discipline to work on a government funded project on the topic of career choice behaviour. The scholarship is offered on a competitive basis via ranking of an applicant’s academic merit. The scholarship covers full tuition fees and provisional arrangements will be made towards a monthly stipend.

Responsibilities will include:

- Complete a PhD project in the area of career choice behaviour under the supervision of designated supervisors, within the expected time frame.
- Provide research assistance in our government funded project.

Selection criteria:

- Completed an Undergraduate Honours degree (with a full-time year of research and an examined thesis) or Masters degree with a significant research component, leading to an honours degree class I or class IIA level (or equivalent); in the disciplines of management, psychology, organisational studies or related areas.
- Preferably a Malaysian citizen.
- An independent and motivated learner.
- Possesses excellent oral, written communication and interpersonal skills.
- Meet the eligibility to enrol as a PhD student at Monash University Malaysia:

  http://www.monash.edu.my/study/postgraduate-and-research/business/phd

Interested applicants are requested to submit an academic CV to Dr. Chong Yit Sean at chong.yit.sean@monash.edu, latest by 31 December 2013. Only short-listed candidates will be notified.