

Research and learning skills are your passport to academic success and future career.

The Library provides a suite of education programs, resources and activities to develop students' skills for university and beyond.

Librarians and Learning Skills Advisers work in integrated teams that are assigned to a specific School. They partner with academic staff to develop targeted skill- development programs across the curriculum.

Librarians and Learning Skills Advisers are also available for individual and group consultations by appointment:

Research Skills

Librarians can work with you on:

- How and where to start researching your topic
- Effective use of databases and the internet
- Finding, evaluating and incorporating information
- Using the Library's collections
- Citing and referencing to avoid plagiarism
- Using Endnote and Mendeley

Learning Skills

Learning skills advisers can work with you on:

- Study methods and exam preparation
- Effective listening and note-taking
- Problem-solving and critical thinking
- Reading strategies
- Academic writing for assessment and research
- Oral communication and presentation

Consultations are by appointment:
11.00 am to 4.00 pm, Monday through Friday

Find your Librarian / Learning Skills Adviser at:

<https://www.monash.edu.my/library/research/school-contacts>

Online Resources

Online tutorials: Learn more about academic integrity and referencing
<http://www.monash.edu/rlo/tutorial>

Library guides: get started with your research assignment
<http://guides.lib.monash.edu/>