Creative Works

1. There's No Place Like Home Exhibition & Events Mansions of the Future, April-May 2019 TNPLH combined the curation of a photographic exhibition (Remain by Hoda Afshar) which included work on the Morton Hall detention centre, and the memoir by Behrouz Boochani with translator, Omid Tofighian, No Friend but the Mountains (Australia, 2018). The events included workshops, panels, actors' readings and artists' talks. It toured to London, Canning Town, on 5-6 July 2019, with Lemn Sissay. Podcasts, image gallery, and soundworks, as well as an active network of concerned people, including those with lived experience, artists, and academics, are some of the outcomes of the program. The Big Walk curated activist action was due to take place in March 2020. Due to the pandemic shutdown, it has been re-commissioned as a film by Natasha Davis and Jane Olsen, to be launched on 11th September 2020.
