Course structure

To fulfil the requirements of the Bachelor of Digital Media and Communication, students must complete the following:

- 1) Fundamental in Communication and Media Studies units (24 credit points)
- 2) Digital Media Core units (48 credit points)
- 3) Professional Practice units (24 credit points)
- 4) Free electives (48 credit points)

Note:

Students must not complete more than 10 units (60 credit points) at first-year level.

Students must complete a minimum of 36 credit points at third-year level.

Students must complete a total of 144 credit points

Students must complete all requirements within 8 years.

For information on specific disciplinary requirements of all Arts majors and minors, please refer to the 'Areas of study' section on the Arts faculty website at <http://www.monash.edu.au/pubs/2019handbooks/courses/A2011.html> (refer to Handbook edition for the year in which you started your course).

Other requirements:

- A unit may count towards only one area of study, for the purpose of meeting course requirements (except as described in the Handbook entry for the course). This is the case even when the unit is listed against two or more areas of study.
- For any area of study managed by the Faculty of Arts, a student who successfully completes a unit is not permitted to re-enrol into the unit in order to improve their mark and grade.
- Students intending to pursue the 4th year Honours degree must complete a major within their intended area of study for Honours, and obtain a grade average of a Distinction (70 per cent) or above in 24 points of studies in units of that same area of study at Level 3.

Note: This course map is for planning purposes only and in no way creates liability for Monash University with regard to the student's course progression and completion. The onus remains on the student to ensure that they are meeting course requirements and regulations
