PhD position (by research)

Project Title:
Modelling Female Attitudes Towards Their Supply of Labour

Lead Supervisors:
Prof. Dr. Eduard Bomhoff
Dr. Grace Lee
Dr. Audrey Siah

Location:
School of Business, Monash University Malaysia

Position Details:
This PhD appointment is based on a full-time mode of study. We are seeking a PhD student with a background in economics or related discipline to work on a government funded project on the topic of labour economics. The scholarship is offered on a competitive basis via ranking of applicant’s academic merit. The scholarship covers full tuition fees and provisional arrangements will be made towards a monthly stipend.

Responsibilities will include:
- Complete a PhD project in the area of labour economics under the supervision of designated supervisors, within the expected time frame.
- Provide research assistance in our government funded project.

Selection Criteria:
- Completed an Undergraduate Honours degree (with a full time year research and an examined thesis) or Masters degree with a significant research component, leading to an honours degree class I or class IIA level (or equivalent); in the disciplines of economics or related areas.
- Preferably a Malaysian citizen.
- An independent and motivated learner.
- Possesses excellent oral, written communication and interpersonal skills.
- Meet the eligibility to enroll as a PhD student at Monash University Malaysia: http://www.monash.edu.my/study/postgraduate-and-research/business/phd

Interested applicants are requested to submit an academic CV to Dr. Audrey Siah at audrey.siah@monash.edu soonest. Only short-listed candidates will be notified.